

ELLEN TERRY AGAIN AT HENRY IRVING'S SIDE.

The Two English Stars Join Dramatic Forces
Again.

WILL COME TO AMERICA.

Sir Henry Says They Will Make One More Tour of
This Country.

NEW PLAYS TO BE PRODUCED

"Cyrano de Bergerac" and "Robespierre" Among Those to Be Given.
They Will Also Appear in
"Richard II."

(Copyright, 1898, by W. R. Hearst.) Special Cable to Journal.
London, Sept. 30.—Sir Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry have again joined dramatic forces after a summer's separation. They began playing together this week in Birmingham. Next week they come to London. During the winter they will go to America for an extensive tour.

HENRY IRVING.

To a correspondent of the Journal who talked with Sir Henry in Birmingham today he said concerning stories that he and Miss Terry had quarrelled and parted company:

"There is absolutely no truth in reports.
Such rumors come from a certain class of irresponsible writers, who take a delectable delight in slandering, and I only regret that reputable newspapers should copy these silly and mendacious statements.

Coming to the United States.
"Miss Terry and I hope to make one more tour of the United States, but we want to take some new plays with us as well as our old ones. Perhaps we shall take "Richard II." That is new to the present generation. As a matter of fact more than forty years have passed since its last production on the London stage.

"We may also play "Robespierre," which Sardou has written for us, and in which Miss Terry will have a fine opportunity.
A new version of "Cyrano de Bergerac" is almost completed for me, but at present I cannot tell the name of the adapter."

The Irving-Terry Trouble.
The strained relations between Sir Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry, which led to their separation, took place in the latter end of August, 1897. Up to that time the idea that Irving and Terry ever would be rival stars was ridiculed. She was looked upon not only by Irving but by the theatre going world as so essential to the success of all his productions that the absence of her whimsical personality would have made the best of them a comparative failure.

It was known that five years ago Miss Terry had declined an offer of $50,000 for a thirty weeks' tour in America, and subsequently a splendid offer was made to her by Beerholm Tree, which she did not even consider.

The reasons for her withdrawal from Irving were concealed from the public, but while Miss Terry was dignified in her course and said not a word against Sir Henry Irving, Sir Henry talked in a slightly disparaging manner of Miss Terry. He declared among other things that her actress was not as good as it had been and that she was no longer able to "retain the lines of character she undertook to portray." Those who heard Miss Terry subsequently declared that the great actress was as well able to depict character as ever she had been at any time in her life.

$100,000 FOR BARNARD COLLEGE
This Sum Promised by an Anonymous Friend if It Can Lift Its Present Indebtedness.

If the friends of Barnard College can raise $58,000 before next Monday to lift the present indebtedness of that institution, an anonymous writer has promised to donate to the college $100,000 as an endowment fund.

The authorities of the woman's university are striving hard to raise the $58,000.
Treasurer George A. Plimpton yesterday called on former Governor Roswell D.
Fletcher, who, upon being told of the handsome offer, gave him a check for $1,000. Mr.
Plimpton said last night that he probably would succeed in raising the necessary amount, and that the donation would be used to endow a professorship.

TWO MEN FIGHT IN A BLAZING ROOM.
Policemen Had to Drag Them Away from the Flames.

John Burns and Gerald Dempsey fought in a blazing room of a tenement house Thursday night and would have been burned to death had they not been dragged out by Policemen Lynch and Tobin, of the West Forty-seventh street station.
Burns and his wife live on the first floor No. 315 West Forty-fourth street.
Dempsey and his wife made them a call.
The two men got into a fight over a game of cards. During their struggle a lamp exploded and the room was set on fire.
The screams of the women awakened the tenants, who hurried to the street.
Burns and Dempsey were rolling over the floor surrounded by flames. After getting the women out Policemen Tobin and Lynch arrested the men. Burns's clothes were on fire and his face and arms were burned. He was fined $10 in the West Side Police Court yesterday and Lynch was fined $100 for assault.

ELLEN TERRY.

SPRECKELS DROPS HAWAIIAN STOCK. GERRY IS NO MORE A NEW YORKER.

Let Go of Sugar and Commercial Company at a Big Profit.

CLEAR THREE MILLIONS.

San Francisco Syndicate Is Now in Control of the Venture.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—The Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company has passed from the control of the Spreckels.
The stock is now in the hands of a syndicate of bankers and brokers. The deal, involving about $5,000,000, was consummated at noon to-day, when the old board of directors retired and the new assumed control.
The principal stockholders were Rudolph and C. A. Spreckels, who, with Mountfort Wilson, Charles S. Wheeler and M. H.
Hecht, constituted the old board of directors. The new board is composed of Edward Pollitz, the broker, who has been elected president; E. M. Walsh, Albert Meyer, R. G. Brown and Charles Sutro.
Pollitz & Co. have been making large purchases of stock, and it is understood that Daniel Meyer and other bankers were behind the transaction.

When Rudolph and C. A. Spreckels acquired the 100,000 shares of stock on January 5, 1894, it was practically valueless.
The company owed $300,000, and had a bonded indebtedness of $900,000 besides.
It had defaulted in its bonds two or three times and was practically insolvent. The young men who held the controlling interest went to work to build up the property.
The stock rose steadily in value till last May, when it was selling at $39 a share.
For some months the Spreckels brothers have been disposing of the stock, and at the last annual meeting in May held only a little over $200,000, which nets them a profit of nearly $5,000,000 for four and one-half years' work. To-day the stock is worth $28 a share. It has a bonded indebtedness of $900,000 and enough sugar in sight to pay that off.

The sellers consider a profit of $5,000,000 for four and a half years' work ample.

"TAPS" FROM MORN TO NIGHT.
Over Every Soldier's Grave at Montauk They Will Sound Tomorrow.

Camp Wikoff, Montauk Point, Sept. 30.— Because the burying ground was so near the hospital the customary volley and taps were omitted at the soldiers' funerals. The men in hospitals were suffering from depressed vitality, and the doctors realized that the continual bugle notes and good-by shots would have a prejudicial effect upon their recovery.
So on Sunday elaborate religious services will be held. Over every grave will be fired the volleys and blown the solemn taps to make up for the omission of what every soldier regards as essential to his funeral.
The bugle will sound from morning till night, for there are many graves at Montauk.

Glyn Will Oppose the Flour Trust.
According to rumors current in the flour trade yesterday there was little likelihood of the flour combine being successfully consummated, at least not until the English stockholders of the big Pillsbury-Washburn company were convinced that it would be to their interest to enter the proposed combination. The principal opponent of the scheme is R. H. Glyn, who is the president of the Pillsbury-Washburn company. He was recently in Minneapolis with Thomas A. McIntyre, of this city, who is trying to engineer the deal. Both of these gentlemen, it is reported, will visit London together, Mr. Glyn to oppose consummation and Mr. McIntyre to use his persuasive arguments on the English stockholders in favor of the Trust.

The memorial further favors a liberal tariff laws and shipping to Hawaii. The memorial asserts that it is for the best interests of the islands that the first Governor of Hawaii should be one who is not bound, politically or otherwise, to the party or class of residents in Hawaii.
Speaking of the work of the committee, Senator Connelley said: "We have done as much as possible in the time at our disposal, and we have covered the ground thoroughly. When we meet in Washington we will go to work at once on our report."

TRAGIC NEWS TO GREET WINTER.

Rowland Cox, Jr., Knows Not of His Sweet-heart's Death.

SHOT BY HER OWN HAND.

She Was a New Hampshire Belle; He Is a New York Lawyer.

THEY MET AT A MAINE CAMP.

Now He Is Beyond Reach in the Adirondack Woods, and Will Not Hear the News Until His Sweetheart Is Buried.

Somewhere in the north woods of the Adirondacks, with guides and dogs for company, is roaming Lawyer Rowland Cox, Jr., of No. 223 Broadway, thinking doublets of the beautiful New Hampshire doubtless, of the last summer to see his girl who promised last summer to be his wife. But his sweetheart is lying dead in her home at Manchester, N. H.—shot by her own hand—and he may not hear the news for a week or more.

Miss Elizabeth Eastman Colgate's relatives say that her death was the result of an accident. But she was alone at the time, and her friends are recalling a painful incident of last year, when Dr. Robinson, of Manchester, was called to the house to save her from the effects of poison which she had swallowed—how or why was never made clear. Opposed to the theory of suicide is the fact that Miss Colgate was an amiable, high-spirited girl, with abundant vitality, a choice circle of friends, a devoted fiancé, a fond mother and everything in a worldly sense that is usually deemed essential to make life worth living.

It was only last summer that Miss Colgate and Rowland Cox, Jr., met. They were guests of the same camping party at Mount Kisco, Me., and their love was born in the fragrant environment of the pine woods. Before they parted for the winter they were betrothed. She had, at that time, only just come of age.

Mrs. Clinton C. Colgate, the girl's mother, occupies a fine residence on the banks of the Merrimack, in the fashionable outskirt of Manchester. After lunch yesterday, according to the account telegraphed by the Journal's correspondent, Miss Colgate made her mother comfortable for her customary room to dress for the afternoon.

All the family was alarmed a few minutes later by the sound of a shot proceeding from Miss Colgate's room. "Father everybody rushed. They found the girl lying on the floor, shot through the heart.
In her right hand was grasped a pretty toy of a revolver. The reason of the shot was not known, but it had been given by her by a friend not long before.

There were no indications that she had contemplated suicide—no written message, no unusual disposition of her effects. Indeed, her demeanor just before going upstairs had been cheerful and affectionate as usual—no more and less—and it was not known that she had a case in the world.

Rowland Cox, Jr., lives at the home of his father, in Pleasant, N. Y. The elder Cox said last night that he was aware of his son's engagement to Miss Colgate, and that he had not seen the young man to be within reach of civilization for a week.
By that time the girl he loved will be under the ground.

IOWA AND OREGON WILL SAIL TO-DAY.

Big Battle Ships Ready for Their Long Voyage to the Asiatic Station.

If all goes well the battle ships Iowa and Oregon will start to-day on their long trips to the Asiatic station. The last stroke of work to finish the Iowa was struck at 6 o'clock last night as she lay at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and the war ship will drop down the bay to an anchorage near the Oregon some time this forenoon. The two vessels are expected to steam away this afternoon.

The colliers Celtic and Abernethy will follow the battle ships to Behl, where they will refuel the bunkers. It is likely the colliers will trail the battle ships as far as Buenos Ayres, where the war vessels will again reverse before attempting the voyage around the Horn. Honolulu is the present destination of the Iowa and Oregon, but it is likely that they will proceed to Manila.

HORSES GIVE WAY TO BABIES TO-DAY.

Westchester Show Will Close with a Bloom of Infants and a Balloon.

From a sporting and social standpoint, the fourth day of the Westchester County Horse Show, held at White Plains yesterday, was a decided success. Every box and seat on the grand stand was filled, and it was estimated that there were twenty thousand people on the grounds.
The principal feature of the closing day to-day will be a baby show, for which prizes will be awarded, and the ascension of the Santiago balloon, which will take a thousand people on a merry ride.

The polo pony contest between E. S.
Reynal, mounted on Six Bits, and Frederick H. asked the Supreme Court of Honor to award the first prize, amid considerable hand clapping. The horses have class opened the day, and then followed the judging of ponies in harness, cobs under saddle, four-in-hands, high steppers and malden hunters.

C. M. DEPEW TO CHANGE HIS NAME.

He Is Chauncey M., of Buffalo, a Nephew of Our Chauncey.

There are other Chauncey M. Depew's besides Chauncey the Great. And all Chauncey M. Depew's don't and wont look alike to New York and the world at large. This is the reason why one of them wants his name changed. This is Chauncey M., of Buffalo. He lately resigned as local freight agent of the New York Central there, and is coming to New York to live. He is a nephew of Chauncey the Great.

Yesterday he asked the Supreme Court of Erie County for permission to change his name to plain Mitchell Depew. His argument was that in making his domicile in New York he would be confused with his uncle and his cousin, and while it might be pleasant enough for him it might in a business as well as social way be somewhat embarrassing to Chauncey the Great.

Third Avenue Cable to Consolidate.
The Third Avenue Cable has given notice to its stockholders of the closing of its books for the issue of $2,000,000 additional stock, making the total amount $12,000,000. According to the report in Wall Street the directors of the Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery line, the Union Railway ("Hicksville road") and the Forty-second Street, Manhattanville and St. Nicholas Avenue Railway have adopted resolutions to consolidate with the Third Avenue road. The stocks in these companies are largely controlled by holders of Third Avenue stock, it is said. It is said that the capital of the consolidated companies will be fixed at $5,000,000 and electricity added.

"WINNIE" DAVIS CAN HAVE NO SUCCESSOR.

out that Winnie Davis can have no successor; that the title died with her.

POISON REMOVED CHINA'S EMPEROR. HIS MIND GONE, HE TRAVELLED FAR

No Doubt That the Young Ruler Has Been Dead
Several Days.

CONFIRMED IN LONDON.

A Leading Diplomat in the Capital Authority for the Statement.

London, Sept. 30.—It was reported here on high authority to-day that the Chinese Emperor was dead and that the facts were being concealed by the court at Peking. One of the persons who stated that the Emperor was dead is a leading diplomat, who declared that the recently deposed ruler had been dead several days and that he was undoubtedly poisoned.
Another who asserted that the young man was no more is the member of a firm which has extensive dealings with China.

According to a dispatch to the Times from Peking correspondent, the Imperial decree issued to-day dismissing from office and banishing to H. Chinese Turkistan, Chang-Yin-Houan, Li Hung Chang's opponent in the Foreign Office, and former Chinese Minister at Washington, acquits the dismissal of official of complicity with Kang-Yuewei, the Cantonese reformer, but convicts him vaguely as "crafty and treacherous."

Plot to Kill Reformers.
The true reason for his dismissal and banishment, the Times's correspondent asserts, is that Chang-Yin-Houan was a powerful supporter of the Emperor's party.

The correspondent of the Globe at Hong Kong says Kang-Yuewei, the Cantonese reformer, in interviews since his escape from Peking, has said he fled because the Emperor informed him of a plot to depose him and kill the reform leaders.
His Majesty, the reform leader added, wanted Kang-Yuewei to escape while there was time for him to do so, and commissioned him to endeavor to obtain protection for the Emperor and for the empire.

British Ship Cleared for Action.
Hong Kong, Sept. 30.—Kang-Yuewei has arrived here on board the steamer Ballarat, which was escorted by the British second-class cruiser Bonaventure. He was landed and lodged at the police barracks. Upon sighting two Chinese cruisers on her way here the Bonaventure cleared for action.

FAIR DEVOTEES FEW THIS YEAR.

It Was the Ideal Weather Which Kept Society Women from Annual Retreat.

The new tempter of women is the weather. It was the ideal weather which kept many society women from joining the annual retreat of the Anglican Community of St. John the Baptist. This retreat came to an end yesterday. For many years a full hundred of the leaders of New York society have joined it. This year there were but thirty participants. At the Mother House on East Seventeenth street the falling off was laid to the fine weather.
The retreat lasted but three days.

Among those who went into retreat were Mrs. S. Van Rensselaer, Mrs. F. S. Sanborn, Mrs. M. C. Denbrough, Miss Margaret Livingston, Miss Grace Schuyler, Miss Floyd-Jones, Miss Emily Van Armstrong, Miss Anne Houghton, Miss Julia Di-abrow, Miss Julia Williams, Miss Julia Purdy, Miss Maud Thompson and the Misses Dodd.

The retreat was conducted by Father Alfred Langmore, of Boston, head of the Society of St. John the Baptist and chaplain of the Sisterhood of St. Mary. He instructed three times a day during the retreat. The other daily services were held at 8:30 a. m., Prime; 7. Holy Communion; 9. Terce; 12. Sext; 3 p. m., Nones; 6. Vespers; 8. Compline.
In the intervening hours those in retreat remained in their rooms in meditation, prayer and self-confession. Absolute silence was required of all.

The Title of "Daughter of the Confederacy" Died
with Her.

VETERANS ARE EMPHATIC.

Lee Camp Meets in Richmond and Adopts Resolutions to This Effect.

GENERAL GORDON SAYS SO, TOO

No Reflection Upon Miss Hill or Any Other Girl, but Jefferson Davis Had but One Daughter.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 30.—Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, met to-night and adopted by a rising vote a resolution which voices the only sentiment that has yet been expressed here in regard to the election of a successor to Miss Winnie Davis. The resolution, which was offered by Major N. V.
Randolph, reads as follows:

Lee Camp learns with regret through the daily press that an effort is being made to perpetuate the title of "Daughter of the Confederacy" in our judgment, at the death of Winnie Davis, that effort should be resisted.
We believe that this is not an office that should ever be filled again, and we trust that this matter shall be carefully considered by all the Confederate camps in the South and North, and that we shall also exercise our vigilance of the proposition to perpetuate the office.

We do not mean to take away the hope of any Southern woman, whether she be the daughter of a general or not, who hope the daughters of the Confederacy will take this matter up, as one of vital interest to them, as their organization took its name from Miss Winnie Davis.

There can be no successor to Winnie Davis—no new "Daughter of the Confederacy." Such is the effect of dispatches from the South relative to the announcement that the mantle of the late Winifred Davis had fallen legitimately upon the shoulders of her friend, Miss Lucy Lee Hill, of Chicago.

No dissection of Miss Hill is implied by this sentiment. It is merely that Southerners cannot bring themselves to look upon another with the feelings that made them cherish the devotion to Jefferson Davis's daughter one of the most remarkable of post-bellum manifestations.

The Journal correspondent in Atlanta, Ga., had an interview on the subject with General Gordon, who was killed in the civil war, and he declared emphatically that the title "Daughter of the Confederacy" had died with Miss Davis.

Miss Lucy Lee Hill, as already told in the Journal, is a daughter of Lieutenant General A. P. Hill, of the Confederate Army, who was killed in the civil war. Her mother was Kitty Morgan, a famous beauty in the South before the war. Miss Hill was appointed by the Governor of Kentucky as the representative of that State on the Board of Lady Managers at the World's Fair.

HIS HAIR TURNED GRAY IN A DAY.

Father's Grief When His Child Shot a Visitor Was Almost Uncontrollable.

John M. Seely, of Newark, is only thirty-five years old, but his hair is as gray as a man of sixty, and it turned color in one day. Seely is the father of Chester Seely, the nine-year-old boy who accidentally shot Lulu Devansky while she was visiting at Mr. Seely's home last Monday.

It is believed at first that the girl had been fatally wounded, and the grief-stricken father paced his room bemoaning the sad event.
The father's hair, a luxuriant brown when the shooting took place, had by Tuesday night turned almost white. When the girl was pronounced out of danger, Mr. Seely began to recover his spirits. It is believed that he would certainly have gone insane had the strain continued another day.

Irish Actor or German Baker Shoots.
Charged with having fired three shots at his wife, a man who gave the name of Victor Bernabe, but whose wife was Mrs. John Bernabe, of No. 226 West Fifty-third street, was locked up in the West Fifty-seventh street police station last night. He said proudly that he was an Irish actor, the police say he is a German baker.

Health Failing

Weak and Run Down and Had a Heart Trouble.

"Before I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was in a very bad condition.
My health was failing very fast and I was weak and terribly run down.
I tried various prescriptions, and was not given much encouragement of recovery. After awhile I began taking and at the end of a few months I was able to do a fairly good day's work. I regard them as wonderful medicines."—
